THUGS ASSAULT 93-YEAR-OLD IN HIS OWN HOME

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE son of a 93-year-old man who was assaulted and robbed in his own home on Boxing Day has branded the masked attackers "scum".

The Second World War veteran was knocked to the ground by two men who barged their way into his home in Black Lion Court, Old Harlow, at about 4.30pm.

As he lay helpless on the floor they rifled through his pockets before making off with his wallet, which contained cash and irreplaceable personal items.

The victim – who does not want to be named for fear of reprisals – sustained cuts and bruises during the assault. He was treated at the scene by paramedics.

This week his son told the Star his father had been left shaken by his ordeal.

"I'm just sickened that anyone could do this to a 93-year-old man," he said. "What sort of society do we live in where this can happen?

"Thankfully my dad only sustained minor injuries, but at his age the shock alone could have killed him."

"He's not the sort of man to go down without a fight and even took a swing at one of them, but he couldn't stop them once they had him on the floor."

"They seemed to know exactly what they wanted, and went as far as ripping the back pocket of his trousers off to get to his wallet".

He added: "He's lived in Harlow for 57 years and nothing like this has ever happened to him before. "I just hope the police manage to catch the scum that did this."

Detectives are now examining CCTV footage from local shops and businesses in the hope of identifying the two assailants, who are described as white and in their mid-20s.

Thugs attack man of 93 in his home

One is around 5ft 6ins tall, while his accomplice is shorter. Both were wearing hooded jackets with scarves pulled up over their faces.

Police believe they may have followed their victim home after seeing him withdraw a large amount of cash earlier in the day.

Detective Constable Ryan Burgess said: "They went straight for the man's wallet and stole nothing else from the house. We believe they had previously interacted with the man, although he cannot recall seeing them before."

"A search of the area was conducted by officers following the incident but to no avail. We are now looking at CCTV footage from local businesses to see if the attackers can be identified, and want to hear from anyone who was in the area at the time who may have seen them making their escape."

Anyone with any information should contact detectives at Harlow Police Station on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Burglars steal boy's Christmas gift Xbox

A YOUNGSTER had his Christmas ruined by burglars who stole his Xbox 360 just days after he received it as a present.

The thieves forced their way in through the front door of the house in Felmongers some time between midnight on Thursday, December 27 and 10am on Sunday, December 29. They also stole camera equipment and jewellery.

Detective Constable Kirsty Swan said: "This console was still in its manufacturer's packaging and with this in mind we're keen to hear from anyone who has or is offered a brand new Xbox 360 in unusual circumstances."

Police plea for help to find break-in suspects

POLICE investigating a burglary on New Year's Eve in which cash and jewellery were stolen are trying to identify three teenage boys who were seen acting suspiciously in the area around the time.

The break-in happened in Pear Tree Mead, Harlow, shortly after 2.30pm on Monday. The front door of a house was forced open to gain entry.

The three suspects are all described as white and of slim build. One is about 5ft 10ins tall with dark hair cut very short at the sides but longer on top and brushed back. He was wearing a black bodywarmer and light-blue trousers turned up at the bottom.

The second is 5ft 6ins tall with mousy brown or ginger hair and was wearing a light top. The third is about 5ft 11ins tall and wore a grey hoodie.

Anyone with information should call Harlow police on 101.

Last-gasp attempt to save advice service

THE trustees of Harlow's Welfare Rights & Advice service have vowed to continue their fight to save the organisation from closure – even if it means facing Harlow Council in court.

The future of HWRA is currently hanging in the balance following the authority's decision in November to withdraw its core source of funding following a row over unpaid debts.

The council then put the contract for advice services out to tender in the week before Christmas, setting a deadline of January 16 for expressions of interest and seemingly closing the door on a last-minute reprieve for the embattled organisation.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

But the service's trustees have now hit back, using money from a fighting fund set up by Friends of HWRA in early December to seek specialist legal advice.

Solicitors acting on behalf of the organisation have since fired off a letter urging the council to withdraw its tender and begin negotiations to restore the service – or else face the threat of court action.

Speaking to the Star yesterday (Wednesday), chairman of trustees Les Coben said: "HWRA's board of trustees met on Tuesday afternoon and agreed to continue the campaign to save the service.

"The trustees are now waiting for the council to respond to a request made on legal advice that the authority should withdraw its invitation for agencies to tender for a replacement specialist advice service."

"We are also hoping that negotiations will begin early in the New Year to restore the long established and much valued service provided by HWRA."

The council had originally planned to take back possession of the Advice Centre on December 6, but legal papers filed by the service have temporarily barred the authority from taking action.

It means that defiant HWRA staff – who have already been handed their redundancy notices – are still able to work inside the building, albeit on a completely voluntary basis.

Mr Coben added: "It's difficult to understand how we have reached the point at which the skilled specialist staff employed by HWRA have been made redundant and other funding has been put at risk at a time when the service is needed more than ever."

When the Star approached the council for comment, a spokesman said it was not currently in a position to respond due to the authority's Christmas and New Year shutdown.

Baby Riley clocks in for the new year

THE arrival of a beautiful baby boy has made it a nappy new year for one young mum.

As champagne corks popped to celebrate the start of 2013, Lauren Carswell (18) was busy ringing in the new year by giving birth to baby Riley. He was the first of six New Year's Day deliveries at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital, arriving at precisely one minute past midnight and weighing in at a healthy 7lb 15oz.

Lauren, who has now returned to her home in Abbeydale Close, Church Langley, said: "I feel really happy and very excited to be starting the new Year with Riley."

"He is doing really well and is sleeping peacefully which is good. I certainly wasn't expecting to be able to say that Riley would be one of the first babies of 2013!"

"As well as having him just after midnight, he was delivered by the same midwife who delivered me in the exact same room my mum was in when she gave birth to me." Lauren and Riley are pictured with Lauren's mum, Kim Burton.

I FORE STREET, OLD HARLOW, ESSEX CM17 0AA

A splashing time was had by all!

THIS week's Nostalgia is more splashback than flashback as we recall the opening of Harlow's first swimming pool.

The imposing building on First Avenue may have been demolished to make way for a new housing development, but just 51 years ago it was being hailed as the new jewel in the crown of the town's leisure facilities.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The doors first opened to the public on June 12, 1961 and hundreds of residents later flocked to the official opening ceremony on August 2.

According to the souvenir programme for the event, kindly supplied by regular Nostalgia contributor Ron Bill, it was an action-packed day, with a swimming gala, diving contest and water polo match giving spectators a taste of what the smart new facility had to offer.

Three of Britain's top divers – including Olympic bronze medallist Brian Phelps – kicked off the event with a dazzling display of airborne acrobatics, before students from Passmores, Netteswell, Brays Grove, Mark Hall and Lutton Bush schools took to the water in an inter-schools freestyle relay.

Other highlights included a synchronised swimming display led by Elizabeth Ferris, described in the programme as “the recognised leading British exponent of synchronised swimming”, and a fiercely-contested game of water polo between Harlow Swimming Club and a team from Norwegian twin-town Stavanger.

The programme is prefaced with a brief description of the new facility's impressive state-of-the-art features, including a 110ft-long pool, a 500-seat spectators' terrace, 5m fixed platform diving board and three large sunbathing bays.

Christopher Mayhew, Labour MP for Woolwich East, performed the opening ceremony on the day, describing the pool as “beautiful with a wonderful proportion and a lovely choice of colour” in his speech.

He added: “Harlow is a true space age town, really new and dynamic. You may have to put up hosts of inquisitive visitors, but this is a small price to pay for living in such a splendid community.”

The pool had welcomed 100,000 visitors within three months of its opening and the facility went on to become a firm favourite of swimmers across Essex and East Herts before being shut down in November 2007 ahead of the construction of the new Leisurezone complex.

● Can you remember the official opening of Harlow Swimming Pool? Perhaps you took part in one of the relay races or remember watching your first game of water polo. Send your recollections to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW, call (01279) 400575 or email star@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Dogs took the lead at Moot House training class

POSING for a photograph can often seem like a chore, but not for these impeccably-behaved pooches.

This wonderful snap was taken back in 1953 at one of Moot House's regular dog obedience classes – and it seems these mild-mannered mutts are noticeably more at ease in front of a camera than some of their easily-distracted owners!

The photo was brought in by Mark Hall and Netteswell Community Association member Alain Fournier, who is hoping readers can help fill in the blanks in the fascinating post-war history of the town's first dedicated community centre.

“England is often described as a nation of dog lovers, and that certainly seems to be the case here,” he said. “This picture was taken in one of the common rooms at Moot House in 1953, but the only information we have on it is the date and the title – dog obedience class.”

“I know there have been a number of different dog classes running at Moot House over the years but it would be nice to hear from anyone who recognises themselves or their pets in the picture.”

● Did you train your dog at Moot House during the 1950s? Can you remember the name of the instructors? Send your memories to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email star@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

MP named as one of 2012's greatest Britons

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has been included in a national newspaper's list of the greatest Britons of the past year.

Conservative backbencher Mr Halfon featured in the Daily Telegraph's rundown of 25 notable people who have had the greatest impact in 2012.

It said that during the year Mr Halfon had "proved backbenchers can influence Government policy".

He played a key role in persuading Chancellor George Osborne MP to delay a planned rise in duty on petrol and diesel, finally cancelling it altogether in his Autumn Statement.

The 43-year-old MP, who was elected in 2010, secured a Parliamentary debate on the issue by helping to collect 100,000 signatures for a petition and published a Private Member's Bill to force petrol stations to list on receipts how much of the cost of fuel goes to the Government in duty.

"It's a great honour and I am immensely grateful to all local residents who campaigned with me to stop fuel duty rises," he said.

"Local residents played a huge part and it shows you can have influence as an MP and campaign for things that local residents want me to campaign on. I was able to do it by negotiating with the Government."

Search teams find missing man's glasses

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

POLICE looking for a man who went missing after an office party three days before Christmas are continuing their search of the River Stort after finding his spectacles.

Edward Gillespie (38) was last seen leaving Henderson's Bar & Grill at Roydon Marina Village at about 1am on Saturday, December 22.

He had booked to stay overnight at the holiday park's hotel, but when he failed to return to his home in Luton his worried relatives reported him missing.

Police began searching the area the following day after finding Mr Gillespie's car parked outside the hotel, which is located a few yards from the function suite where the party was held.

His bed had not been slept in and his belongings were still in his room.

The police marine unit, helicopter and other specialist search teams have been scouring the riverbanks and waterways of the Stort throughout the Christmas and New Year period, and on Friday a pair of Mr Gillespie's spectacles were found in the marina.

The discovery came a day after a search party made up of Mr Gillespie's friends discovered the body of missing Stanstead Abbots pensioner Gwyn Morris (88), who went missing from his care home on December 6.

The group were checking the riverbank near Feildes Weir Lock in Hoddesdon when they made the grim discovery.

Mr Gillespie's friend, Matthew McGrath (37), said: "We thought we saw someone head down in the water but it looked like a car seat."

"We called everyone else who managed to turn it over with sticks and I saw it was a body, but I knew it wasn't Eddie because of his clothes."

Detective Superintendent Luke Collison said the force had not given up hope of finding Mr Gillespie alive and appealed for anyone with information on his whereabouts to come forward.

"It has been 10 days since he was last seen, but we haven't given up hope on finding Ed and neither should the public," he said. "We still need them to help by contacting us if they see him or find any item of clothing belonging to him."

Officers are continuing to hand out leaflets in the area in a bid to jog people's memories, and police have now been joined by specially trained volunteers from Essex Lowland Search & Rescue as the search continues.

DS Collison added: "It is a distressing time for his family and friends, especially as it's New Year and they have to enter 2013 without him."

"Our thoughts are with them, but they know that we and the volunteers from Essex Lowland Search and Rescue are doing everything to find him."

Anyone with any information about Mr Gillespie's whereabouts should call Loughton police station on 101.

Rail commuter who slipped on icy platform claims passengers are still being put at risk

A COMMUTER who fell between a train and the platform after slipping on ice at Sawbridgeworth station claims staff are still not gritting – two winters after her accident.

Renee Lazell, who suffers nightmares following her ordeal, said passengers were being put at risk of serious injury or even death as they are forced to negotiate precarious platforms to catch their trains.

"Even now I have panic attacks getting on the train if they haven't gritted the platform," said the 41-year-old legal secretary. "What really gets my goat is that I was informed the reason that the platform hadn't been gritted was due to the fact the station office was busy dealing with queries. So that is far more important than the safety of passengers?"

She added: "I slipped again at the station because it was sheet ice and yet again no gritting had taken place. This is a regular occurrence that grit hasn't been put down at all either on the platforms or on the steps that go over the platforms."

"It would seem to me that it will take someone slipping and being killed by a train before anything is done."

Ms Lazell, of The Meadows, was left suspended over the tracks after falling through the gap when she slipped while attempting to board her early morning train to London in December 2010.

"Fortunately my train was stationary when I fell but it could have been a whole different story if the train driver hadn't realised that I was dangling with my chin level with the train floor," she said. "It was the most scary experience of my life and I have had nightmares ever since."

Ms Lazell is pursuing a compensation claim against previous franchise owner London Eastern Railway Ltd, which ran Sawbridgeworth station until it was taken over by Greater Anglia last February.

A Greater Anglia spokesman said: "Our station and maintenance staff are rigorous with regard to clearing snow and gritting platforms when it is freezing. Together, we will continue to take a pro-active approach to these matters when there is inclement weather."

She added that additional signage warning passengers to take care when ice or snow is forecast has also been installed at the station.

MY VIEW FROM WESTMINSTER

A monthly column by Harlow MP Robert Halfon

A year to remember ... for good and bad

I THOUGHT I might share with you some reflections of 2012 as well as setting out some aims for 2013.

During the past 12 months I have continued the campaign in Parliament for lower fuel duty and helped persuade the Chancellor to stop two fuel duty rises in 2012 and two planned for this year.

With a lot of pressure and working with Fair Fuel UK, we also pushed the Office of Fair Trading to launch an inquiry into the role of oil companies keeping prices high at the pumps. We should hear the initial results of their inquiry some time this month.

I have also carried on my work supporting apprenticeships and now employ my third apprentice from Harlow College. This week the Government announced its intention to ensure apprenticeships are on a par with university degrees. I will be looking to support this initiative over the coming months.

Talking of apprenticeships, a very special moment this year was the announcement that Harlow would get a University Technical College in 2014. This is one of a few around the country and will have hundreds of places for students aged 14-19.

The UTC will be focused on high-tech vocational education and is backed by Harlow College, Anglia Ruskin University, Princess Alexandra Hospital, Pearson and GSK.

For nearly two years the college and I worked with others on the bid, lobbying the Government and making the case for Harlow. This pre-apprentice school will be transformative and will be great for our town.

The October Jobs Fair I organised at Harlow Leisurezone with the help of the Jobcentre and Seetec was a tremendous success, with 86 companies offering jobs and 2,000 jobseekers attending. It has been wonderful to meet residents who got jobs from the fair.

I said I would always do my best to be a community MP and during the year I have visited many hundreds of organisations across Harlow. In September I did my second week of Social Action, working at different community organisations like HarlowSave Credit Union, St Clare's Hospice and Talking Newspapers.

In 2013 I would like to do more work on literacy and for this reason I was successfully elected chairman of the All-Party Literacy Group in Parliament. Here in Harlow I do a special 'Reading with Rob' around schools, reading to children and talking to them about books.

I also plan to campaign on lower taxes for lower earners, trying to persuade the Chancellor to restore the 10p income tax rate removed by Gordon Brown.

Politically, I want to play a part in ensuring that my party emphasises the economic programme of austerity is rooted in social justice, that our policies on aspiration go hand-in-hand with supporting the Big Society to give a ladder of opportunity to those at the bottom, and that we value public sector workers and trade union members as much as we do the private sector and small business.

The cuts in the growth in spending are being made by the Government, not from meanness but because of the huge deficit which has at least been reduced by one quarter this year. There is nothing popular in cutting the growth of spending on public services; it is being done simply because there is not enough money.

In Harlow this year we have seen the worst of human suffering but the best of humanity as our community rallied together following the Barn Mead tragedy.

For the rest of my life I will never forget the funeral of the Shakoor family, watching the children's coffins being placed in plots at Parndon Wood Cemetery. I will always remember, too, the dignity of Dr Shakoor, the many Harlow residents who attended the funeral and lined the streets, the Islamic Centre that acted as a potent force for good at this time and the doctors, nurses, police and fire officers who did all they could.

It has been a privilege to serve in our community over the past year and I look forward to the year ahead.

Sales fever keeps shop tills ringing

A LAST-MINUTE shopping surge the weekend before Christmas has helped rescue Harlow retailers from a miserable festive season.

Retail experts had forecast a disappointing December for high street stores, with cash-strapped consumers spending less as the effects of the economic downturn continue to be felt across the UK.

But despite experiencing a quieter than expected start to the month, shops in both the Harvey Centre and The Water Gardens have started the New Year on a high after receiving a timely boost in trade the weekend before Christmas. Shoppers this week continued to splash the cash in the January sales.

Water Gardens manager Beryl Murphy

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

said: "Up until the weekend before Christmas it had been a mixed bag for most of our retailers, with some under-performing and others performing slightly better than they'd expected."

"But with most people getting paid on the Friday before Christmas, we had a last-minute boom in trade as shoppers left it late to buy their gifts."

"The fact Christmas fell on a Tuesday this year definitely had an impact on sales, but we've found that from the tail-end of December trade has really picked up."

She added: "Stores are now reporting that shoppers are continuing to spend in the sales, with Next telling me this year's sale takings are up on the same period last year.

"Certainly our car park has never been busier, and that is always a good way of gauging how the centre as a whole is performing."

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young said the town centre mall had experienced a similar upturn in trade over the weekend before Christmas, adding that he was confident most retailers would now start the New Year on a positive footing.

"It was definitely a slow start to the month, but things really picked up from the Friday before Christmas," he told the Star.

"It was no coincidence that this was the day most people got paid, and those who had been waiting for their December pay-packet before buying presents then rushed out and did all their Christmas shopping over the weekend."

"The fact the schools broke up later this year also had an impact on trade, but I'm pleased to say that things have really picked up since. Our footfall on Boxing Day was up 3.5 per cent on last year and our stores are reporting that shoppers are spending big in the sales."

STAFF at Princess Alexandra Hospital are using the power of song to help stroke patients regain and improve their language skills.

While speaking uses the left side of the brain, singing uses the right, meaning some patients find it easier to sing words rather than speak them.

A hospital spokesman said: "Many people suffering from stroke lose their power of speech or their ability to speak fluently.

"However, we are trying a

Singing helping stroke patients communicate technique which means they can communicate by singing. It uses a different part of the brain and by working on that side helps them build up their speech function."

The singing sessions are now run regularly by the hospital's dedicated stroke support groups. At a recent meeting, members dressed up as nuns and sang numbers from the film Sister Act (pictured above).

Specialist stroke nurse Patsy Simons said: "You find a lot of patients who lose the power of speech can do voluntary things like swearing or singing. It just comes naturally."

Our battle to prevent Harlow North goes on

SIR, Last year was a quiet year for the STOP Harlow North campaign. East Herts Council continues to prepare the District Plan but unfortunately Harlow North remains an option under consideration despite the council's long standing opposition to the proposals.

We hope and believe this is so the council can clearly show why they ultimately eliminate the idea from the final plan.

We have monitored the technical studies that have been published. The population models confirm what we have been saying all along – that Harlow North would not be for local people but would simply accelerate migration out of London.

The employment studies show that a business park to provide employment north of Harlow is not a realistic and deliverable option. Harlow North would be an unsustainable dormitory town for those employed in London, not an East Herts community.

The cost of any necessary infrastructure – roads, schools, health facilities, libraries, etc – has still to be quantified. We believe once the multi-million pound cost of a new settlement is calculated the whole concept becomes unviable. After all, the Government has run out of money.

The Government has still not abolished the East of England Plan and so the council has delayed consulting on its Preferred Core Strategy until spring 2013. This will be a busy time for our campaign and we will need to ensure there is a massive response to the consultation.

We will, as usual, provide detailed guidance and support and multiple ways to make views known. This will be a significant milestone and we will need a concerted effort to finally remove Harlow North from the plans.

We always need volunteers to help with leaflet delivery so please get in touch or contact your town/parish council if you want to assist in any way. Your representatives are: Eric Buckmaster and Angela Alder (Sawbridgeworth), Ian Brett (Widford), Sam Clark (High Wych and Allen's Green), Amanda Olsen and Spike Hughes (Eastwick and Gilston), Blaise Morris (Much Hadham), Nigel Clark (Hunsdon).

Nigel Clark, secretary, STOP Harlow North

We must stand together to resist homes decision

SIR, I was surprised at the decision of Harlow Council not to challenge the plan to

THIS delightful photograph was sent in by Sue Lawrence, of Lodge Hall, Harlow.

"The photograph is of my granddaughter, Tia, enjoying the autumn leaves at Harlow Town Park on Saturday, November 17," writes Mrs Lawrence.

Do you have a photo taken in Harlow that you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section? If so, we would love to see it.

Email a high resolution copy in jpeg format along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken. It is important you also include your name and address.

Send your photo to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

build on Gilden Way, particularly since this planning decision will impact upon the whole of the town now and for generations to come. I liken this decision to the South West Trains franchise fiasco and Sir Richard Branson overturning a decision that was not supported by facts.

However, this problem is much more than about infrastructure and the environment. These, and all decisions involving a town, must include social, economic, financial, environmental and logistical issues both now and into the future.

With regards to social issues, let us look at the people who are to come to Harlow as a result of this proposed development. We need to know such things as whether they are employed or unemployed and are to cause a further burden to the existing welfare rights organisations.

For long-term sustainability we need to know such things as whether new businesses will be attracted to the area, particularly since we are talking about the possibility of a triple dip recession.

With regards to roads, how are we to overcome the current problems if we are to add to them? For instance, in 2012 parking was an issue in the town. This problem will only worsen should this proposal go ahead. Road congestion, maintenance and freedom of movement for the emergency services need careful consideration. There are many other considerations, too many to list here.

Is this really the time to talk about expanding Harlow when we are facing difficulties of managing the size of town that we currently have?

This is an opportunity for the people of Harlow to pull together and not apart. I do hope the council will reconsider its decision and make saving Harlow and securing its long-term future a priority.

Let us make 2013 the year that we come together as a community in which everyone can be neighbours with each other (no matter in which Ward they live. Like Cllr Ian Beckett advised (Letters, December 13), we can stand together and resist what will be an incredibly bad decision for Harlow and its future made far away in Whitehall.

Threat to all farmland?

SIR, What a disappointment to read the latest news about the Gilden Way development (Star, December 27). I cannot believe the news that the developers have been given the green light to build hundreds of homes on our green land despite our protests.

So does this now mean that any farm/greenland can be used to build houses on at the drop of a hat?

Town needs Aldi store

SIR, I would have thought a new Aldi store in Harlow would be good for the town's residents as we know that it is a budget chain which could help keep food prices down.

I can't see how the council can put objections about the traffic in the area as they didn't object about the housing projects on the old swimming pool site and the old sports centre. The traffic around these areas has obviously increased, adding to the general traffic chaos in Harlow.

Smartphone app offers an A-Z of Essex

INFORMATION on public services across Essex is now available at the touch of a button for people with smartphones.

Essex County Council has launched a new app – Your Essex – which provides users with a handy A-Z guide to services offered by the authority alongside contact details for local schools and police stations.

The mobile web-based program also features maps of the county's public parks, a live traffic information feed and links to local news websites.

County council leader Peter Martin said: "With one in three adults already using a smart phone, Your Essex gives our residents and visitors to the county the ability to find the information they are looking for in the simplest possible way.

"With that number rising after many people receiving tablets and mobile phones for Christmas, the Your Essex app is the easiest way to access information about public services in Essex.

"With Essex Police and a number of councils already on board, it's a very handy tool to have on your homescreen."

To access the app, log on to m.essex.gov.uk from your smartphone or tablet device.

MP welcomes Comet closure inquiry

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A GOVERNMENT inquiry into the collapse of the high street electrical retailer Comet has been welcomed by Harlow MP Robert Halfon.

The probe has been ordered by Business Secretary Vince Cable who met Mr Halfon to discuss the concerns raised by the 150-plus Harlow-based staff who lost their jobs when the firm went bust last month.

Investigators from the Department for Business will now try to find out how Comet's private equity owners OpCapita were able to recoup £50m from the high street chain's administration while taxpayers were left to foot the bill for 1,600 redundancies.

Mr Halfon said the venture capital firm needed to provide answers to worrying allegations of malpractice.

"The collapse of Comet has pushed 150 people in Harlow onto the dole, and has left the taxpayer with a bill of up to £50m," he told the Star. "There are worrying allegations of malpractice, and I am grateful to the Prime Minister and the Business Secretary for looking at this seriously and launching an investigation.

"In Harlow, I have met with trade union officials and Comet workers. They told me that they only found out about their redundancy from the media and not directly from the various holding companies involved. Staff were also promised a range of support and help, including CV workshops, but none of this appears to have happened."

He added that he had also heard reports that last-ditch rescue bids for some Comet stores were ignored, despite the fact the shops in question were still turning a profit.

"This needs to be urgently investigated," he said.

"Because the private equity companies are a secured creditor they will recover much of their cash, but Comet workers may not get paid and neither will the taxpayer. The Government needs to get to the bottom of this."

pita said the firm would "assist fully" with any inquiry.

"We welcome the opportunity to provide the Department for Business with factual information relating to the circumstance which led to Comet entering administration," he added.

Time running out for school choices

PARENTS are being urged to do their research online before deciding which primary school they want their children to attend.

As the application deadline of January 15 edges closer, Essex County Council is encouraging parents to make use of the information on its dedicated admissions website, which now boasts a comprehensive database of schools, links to Ofsted reports, admissions criteria and details of catchment areas.

Stephen Castle, cabinet member for education said: "Applying for the first school for your child can be a daunting process. The website aims to provide you with the tools you need to make an informed application.

"Last year we were able to provide most parents with their preferred school but schools can become oversubscribed so it is very important for parents to select more than one preference and keep their options open."

Online applications can be made via the website at www.essex.gov.uk/admissions.

Libraries deliver the digital page

BOOKWORMS are being encouraged to embrace the digital age by downloading a free e-audio book from Harlow Library.

Members can now download a large selection of titles to their computer, laptop or mobile device using their library card.

As there is no need to return e-audio books there is no risk of a library fine.

Jeremy Lucas, Essex County Council's cabinet member for customer services, environment and culture, said: "E-audio books are ideal for use on a car journey, on the train, in the gym or out walking the dog."

To find out more about downloading e-audio books, visit www.essex.gov.uk/ebooks.

WIN A pair of tickets to see the hilarious musical Spamalot

IT'S funnier than the Black Death and features the nation's favourite comedy song.

Spamalot, lovingly ripped off from the film Monty Python and the Holy Grail is a musical that tells the legendary tale of King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table.

It features a bevy (or possibly a brace) of beautiful show girls, witch-burnings, cows, killer rabbits and French people.

Currently showing at the Playhouse Theatre in Northumberland Avenue, Spamalot stars Stephen Tompkinson in his West End musical debut as King Arthur and Anna-Jane Casey (Cats, Starlight Express, Chicago) as the Lady of The Lake.

Among the hilarious songs are He Is Not Dead Yet, Knights of the Round Table, Find Your Grail and, of course, Always Look On the Bright Side of Life.

This week we are giving you the chance to spend a night with the Knights of the Round Table in the most infectiously funny musical of the millennium by winning one of five pairs of tickets to the show.

To enter, you must answer the following question:

On what film is Spamalot based?

Visit our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk and click on the Competitions link under the 'Newspaper' tab. Be sure to enter 'Star Spamalot' in the competition line or your entry will be discounted. The closing date for entries is noon on Wednesday, January 9.

● If you are not one of our winners but want to buy tickets for the show, call 0844 871 7631 or visit the website at www.atgtickets.com/spamalot.

TERMS & CONDITIONS: Tickets are for Monday-Thursday evening performances only. Tickets are subject to strict availability and are non-transferable. Tickets must be redeemed by January 31, 2013. Transport to and from the theatre is the responsibility of the prizewinners.

Seabed covered in Carpet of shellfish

A HUGE colony of rare shellfish has been discovered living in the sea off the western coast of Scotland.

It is estimated that more than 100 million flame shells were found during a survey of Loch Alsh, a small stretch of sea between the Isle of Skye and the Scottish mainland.

Scientists believe it could be the largest group of the brightly-coloured species in the world.

The weird and wonderful clams have vibrant orange tentacles which stick out of their shells. They use gravel, shells and wiry threads to build nests which combine to form a living reef on the seabed that can support hundreds of other species.

The reef discovered in Loch Alsh stretches for five miles and covers a total area of 750,000 square metres.

Richard Lochhead, who is in charge of environmental affairs for the Scottish government, told reporters: "The flame shell must be considered among the most remarkable species in our waters."

"This important discovery may be the largest grouping of flame shells anywhere in the world."

The survey was carried out as part of a special conservation project to find new areas of water that need to be marked for conservation - known as Marine Protected Areas.

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Mercury and Pluto can really concentrate your thoughts, but you can also encounter an authoritative person who may block you, or try to force their will on to you. If you have questions to answer from anyone important, don't be tempted to fob them off. Then again, if you are certain of your goals, you can push on with incredible determination. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
Your natural talent for interior design, making things, and the arts is enhanced, and could see you starting a new project, perhaps improving your home space, or based in your abode. Yet this is not a great time to splash money out too loosely, so, if you can be inventive and make the most of the materials you already have, it can prove more satisfying. Call now for more news and advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
If you are keen to pursue your hopes by doing any kind of research, you can achieve a lot at the start of this week, when very little will miss your searching gaze, and you can learn a great deal. With your ruler Venus moving into Capricorn, your knowledge can be boosted around earthy, but valuable strands. Romance can spark with someone at a distance. Call for your love scope in full...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Trying to force your will around a family or home issue, may see you get your own way, but create a tremendous amount of ill will. You can probably argue anyone off the table, but that's not the point, it's the legacy that can come from being "all knowing" can bring. Where possible, try to smooth not ruffle feathers, and look to listen more attentively. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Mars and Saturn are at right angles as this week begins, suggesting that the worst thing you can do is scatter your energies too thinly, on the altar of virtue. Many of us try new things at this time of year, VERY careful what you say but try to ensure that your goals are truly achievable. Fortunately, you may gain through business, investments or someone else's financial success. Call for your financial forecast...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Politics around possession and "ownership" may be a feature of the early part of this week, and as much as you may see another person as being at fault, do try to keep the lines of communication open. Once you move into a might is right is right stance, you will immediately lose the argument. Try to be diplomatic. In love, opposites really can attract. Call now for your love scope in full...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Your ruler Saturn continues to put its stamp on proceedings, but this may mean that you feel pulled in two different directions, and be unsure of which to take. Fortunately, the arrival of Venus in your sign and its fab link to Neptune, can see you enjoy a very special conversation and connection with someone, which may lead to something more Capricorn. Call me for your love scope in full...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Your attention to detail may be awesome, and whilst you may win an argument because of what you know, you could lose a friend, or goodwill in the process. The move of Venus encourages you to embrace the concept that no-one is perfect, and if you can cut someone some slack, including yourself, your affairs will run along all the better for this. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
You may find yourself in conflict with an authority figure or feel that your career is heavy going. This and other influences this week, may see you retreat from others so as to reflect on your next move. You may consider what the last year has meant, and what the future holds. However, a much brighter and more progressive phase kicks in from mid month. Call now for more astral advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
Your desire to show what you can do could see you get quite frustrated if plans don't unfold as quickly as you'd like. The upside occurs when Venus glides into the most brilliant part of your horoscope. As she combines with Neptune, something magical could happen and it could even see you meet someone new and very special. Certainly don't hibernate. Call for your love scope...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
One issue may continue to blight you more than you might have imagined it would. You seem to be particularly sensitive or raw to undercurrents, and need the solace of people you can really trust and rely upon and with no strings attached. Fortunately, as this week goes on, your faith in person kind can start to be restored by one person's kindness and care. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Still time to climb panto beanstalk

THIS year's Harlow Playhouse pantomime Jack & The Beanstalk looks set to scale new heights as it edges closer to smashing box office records.

The show – which stars CBeebies favourite Pui Fan Lee – finishes its month-long run at the theatre on Sunday and is on track to outsell 2011's record-breaking panto Peter Pan, with more than 17,000 tickets sold so far.

Theatre manager Scott Ramsay said audience response to the show had been “overwhelmingly positive”.

“People are looking for great holiday activities for their families and Jack & The Beanstalk is the ideal way to make a day of it, particularly when the weather is poor,” he said.

“The show has received excellent feedback, reviews and comments, and the special effects are a lovely surprise for audiences. It's great to see people dancing in the aisles by the curtain call!”

Performances start at 2pm and 6pm until Sunday (January 6). For more information or to book tickets, log on to www.playhouseharlow.com or call (01279) 431945.

Choice selection of winter warmers

By CHRIS MOSS

RIB-tickling comedy, gravity-defying theatre and stomach-churning cabaret are just some of the attractions awaiting Playhouse audiences over the next few weeks.

The star-studded programme of dance, drama and music kicks off on February 5 with a breathtaking new show from award-winning physical theatre group Ockham's Razor, who combine jaw-dropping aerial stunts and compelling storytelling to dizzying effect.

Their three-night residency is followed by the return of veteran performer, poet and musician Richard Digance, who will be staging a one-man career retrospective on Saturday, February 9 with songs, poems and amusing anecdotes from his 40 years in showbusiness.

The following Tuesday (February 12) will see stomachs turn as The Circus Of Horrors rolls back into town with its twisted take on classic cabaret, before sanity is restored on Valentine's Day (February 14) with swoonsome new show A Night Of Romantic Opera.

Music fans will find plenty to get excited about in the new season, with top tribute acts playing the hits of the Electric Light Orchestra (The ELO Experience, February 13), Elvis (The Elvis Years, February 22), The Bee Gees (Nights On Broadway, February 28), Guns 'n' Roses (The Guns 'n' Roses Experience, March 1), Pink Floyd (The Floyd Effect, March 2) and Queen (GaGa, March 9), while those who prefer the real thing can look forward to catching live sets from Chas 'n' Dave (March 13-14), The Drifters (March 8) and Brit Award-winning vocal group Blake (March 10).

There will be plenty of opportunities to chase away those New Year blues, too, with side-splitting sets from stand-up royalty Kevin Precious (March 17) and former They Think It's All Over regular Lee Hurst (March 23), while the acclaimed Jongleurs Comedy Club returns to the venue on March 7.

Kids are again well-catered for, with magical new show Why The Lion Danced ushering in the Chinese New Year on February 9 before puppet theatre group Idolrich return on February 21 with an enchanting new take on the classic tale of The Hare & The Tortoise.

Children and grown-ups alike can't fail to be amazed by the jaw-dropping illusions of panto favourite Jezzo and his accomplice

THE DRIFTERS

LEE HURST

CHAS 'N' DAVE

Doctor Bondini in Wow! This Show Is Magic on February 23, while magic of an altogether more mischievous kind will be at work in a dazzling new production of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream on February 27.

Terror of a family torn apart by force of nature

THE IMPOSSIBLE certificate 12A, 1h54m

MOTHER Nature is a cruel mistress. She can nurture and nourish, conjure new life in the most desolate region and yet destroy without warning or mercy.

On Boxing Day 2004, while many in the West were bloated with post-Christmas excess, communities across southern Asia faced unimaginable devastation when an earthquake off the coast of northern Sumatra displaced huge volumes of water. The result was a massive tsunami that ripped through the region, razing lush wilderness and luxury resorts packed with vacationing families. Thousands of people were killed and many more were left homeless by a wall of roaring, churning water.

"This is the true story of one of those families," declares The Impossible, a harrowing drama about five people caught up in the disaster who mustered formidable strength and courage to search for each other amid scenes of heartbreaking loss.

Adapted by screenwriter Sergio G Sanchez from the nightmarish recollections of survivors Maria and Enrique Belon, Juan Antonia Bayona's film packs a mighty emotional punch with every expertly crafted frame.

There but for the grace of God and Mother Nature go all of us.

Henry (Ewan McGregor) and Maria (Naomi Watts) arrive in the tropical paradise of Thailand with their three sons, Lucas (Tom Holland), Thomas (Samuel Joslin) and Simon (Oaklee Pendergast). They open Christmas presents on the patio overlooking the sea, unaware of the horror to come.

The following day, flocks of terrified birds take to the skies, heralding a wall of water that careens through the complex. Maria and Lucas are carried away by the surge and when the water eventually recedes, they hobble through mud and detritus in search of survivors.

Meanwhile, Henry is forced to leave his two youngest boys in the care of strangers in order to learn the fate of his wife and eldest child.

Directed with aplomb by Bayona, The Impossible recreates the tsunami using giant water tanks to drench the lead cast, augmented with digital effects that give a sense of the confusion and terror that fateful winter's day.

Watts wrings out copious tears as a critically ill mother who puts on a brave face in front of her terrified boy. McGregor has the less showy role but still tugs heartstrings with an anguished telephone call back home to distraught relatives, his voice cracking with every shell-shocked word.

Teenage newcomer Holland impresses most, bearing the emotional weight of deeply moving scenes as if he has been acting all of his life. He doesn't strike a false note as the camera stares unflinchingly into his bloodshot eyes.

Staring back is a boy forced to cast aside childish things in order to make life-or-death decisions that could leave him orphaned in a foreign land.

JACK REACHER Former military officer Jack Reacher (Tom Cruise) is lured out of hiding when a mentally unstable sniper, James Barr (Joseph Sikora), is arrested for the murder of five innocent people outside PNC Park in Pennsylvania. Before slipping into a coma, Barr writes down three words - Get Jack Reacher. On cue, Jack makes contact with lead detective Emerson (David Oyelowo) and district attorney Rodin (Richard Jenkins), convinced that the cops have caught their perpetrator. But Rodin's daughter, defence attorney Helen Rodin (Rosamund Pike), isn't convinced of Barr's guilt and she hires Jack to check the forensics. As Jack follows a chain of evidence, he falls foul of criminal mastermind The Zec (Werner Herzog) and a sharp-shooting henchman (Jai Courtney), whose business interests may play some part in the unfolding mystery.

LIFE OF PI An inquisitive writer (Rafe Spall) turns up unexpectedly at the door of Pi Patel (Irrfan Khan), having been told his story deserves to be immortalised in print. In flashback, Pi recounts his youth as the son of a circus owner who decided to sell the family business in Pondicherry and emigrate to Canada with his wife and two boys. A raging storm causes the ship to overturn and young Pi (Suraj Sharma) escapes in a lifeboat along with a zebra, an orang-utan, a hyena and a tiger called Richard Parker. As the days pass, the predators prevail until just Richard Parker and Pi remain, trapped together in a vast expanse of water.

THE HOBBIT: AN UNEXPECTED JOURNEY Beginning at Bag End with the elderly Bilbo (Ian Holm) penning a book to his cousin Frodo (Elijah Wood), we then go back 60 years to meet the young Bilbo (Martin Freeman) in the Shire as he encounters Gandalf The Grey (Sir Ian McKellen) and a 13-strong company of dwarves who intend to reclaim their lost gold from the dragon Smaug in his mountain lair. Bilbo agrees to accompany dwarf leader Thorin Oakenshield (Richard Armitage) and his troops on their perilous mission. En route, the party encounter elvish allies including Elrond (Hugo Weaving) and Galadriel (Cate Blanchett), as well as wretched Gollum (Andy Serkis) and the corpulent Goblin King (Barry Humphries).

PARENTAL GUIDANCE Artie Decker (Billy Crystal) and his wife Diane (Midler) have been married for more than 40 years. Artie is a baseball commentator for his local team but is crestfallen when the new owners sack him from the commentary booth to inject fresh blood into the club. Soon after, the couple's daughter, Alice (Marisa Tomei), asks Artie and Diane to babysit their three grandchildren while she accompanies her husband Phil (Tom Everett Scott) on an important business trip. Diane readily accepts, but it soon becomes clear that the grandparents do not know how to relate to the children and their 21st century fads.

PITCH PERFECT Beca (Anna Kendrick) arrives at Barden College with dreams of becoming a music producer. She signs up with all-girl acappella group The Bellas, who flopped spectacularly in a competition when soloist Aubrey (Anna Camp) projectile vomited over the audience. Aubrey's right-hand gal Chloe (Brittany Snow), is open to Beca's bold ideas to reinvigorate the repertoire but Aubrey insists they stick to her songbook of 1990s favourites. New girl Fat Amy (Rebel Wilson) throws her considerable weight behind Beca but as this year's competition draws near, tensions are evident.

RISE OF THE GUARDIANS When the evil spirit Pitch launches an assault on Earth, the Immortal Guardians - Santa Claus, Easter Bunny, Tooth Fairy, Sandman and new recruit Jack Frost - team up to protect the innocence of children all around the world.

NATIVITY 2: DANGER IN THE MANGER New primary school teacher Donald Peterson (David Tennant) takes a class of excitable children on a road trip to a 'Song for Christmas' competition.

TINKER BELL AND THE SECRET OF THE WINGS Tinker Bell meets Periwinkle and ventures into the winter woods with her and some other friends to find the secret of fairy wings.

Veteran cast at home in Hoffman's comedy drama

QUARTET certificate 12A, 1h38m

DUSTIN Hoffman makes his directorial debut with this gentle comedy, adapted for the screen by Ronald Harwood from his own stage play.

Beecham House is a retirement house for opera singers and other eccentric performers who are in the twilight of their faded careers.

Run with a gentle touch by on-staff medic Dr Lucy Cogan (Sheridan Smith), the facility is full of music and laughter, most of it organised by luvvie Cedric (Michael Gambon) who has the honour of deciding the programme for the regular performances to staff, family and friends.

Three of the residents - Reginald (Tom Courtenay), Wilf (Billy Connolly) and Cissy (Pauline Collins) - previously performed together as part of a celebrated quartet and their humdrum routines at Beecham House are thrown into disarray by the arrival of the fourth member, Jean (Maggie Smith).

She is less than thrilled to be consigned to the retirement home and there is obvious friction with Reg. But once Jean settles in and adjusts to the gentle ebb and flow of life at Beecham House, she rediscovers her voice and a lust for life.

Stylish four-bed detached in quiet cul-de-sac location

coverproperty

Location Greygoose Park, Harlow

Category Four-bedroom detached

Additional Three reception rooms, en suite shower room, extended garage, off-street parking

Guide price £339,950

Agent Mackay Property Agents, The Old Barn, 2A The Square, Sawbridgeworth. Tel (01279) 600567.

THIS week's cover property is a detached house which has been extended and greatly improved to create a stylish family home with plenty of space.

It is located in Greygoose Park, a quiet cul-de-sac in Harlow.

On the ground floor there is an entrance hall and three reception rooms.

The sitting room leads into the dining room where there are stairs to the first floor.

The contemporary kitchen is fitted with attractive modern units and worktops with several integrated appliances and a window overlooking the rear garden.

There is also a ground floor shower room and garden room which has doors opening onto the garden.

Upstairs there are four bedrooms, one of which has an en-suite shower room and a window out on to a roof terrace which overlooks the front of the house.

There is also a family bathroom and plenty of storage space.

One particular feature of this property is the rear garden which is private and has a large terrace area with built-in lighting. There is also an outside tap and shed.

The extended garage has an electrically operated up-and-over door with power and light connected and there is also off-street parking for two cars.

Greygoose Park is an established and private close which is conveniently located for the town, train station, M11 and Stansted Airport.

This house is on the market with no onward chain. Contact selling agents Mackay Property Agents on (01279) 600567 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

Back to basics

By Matt Kimberley

AFTER years of indecision within Dacia, the Sandero is finally coming to Britain and it promises to change the rules of car buying – or at least take them back to simpler times.

The buying process will be easy. The price is the price for a start, so it avoids the uncomfortable fiscal duel that is haggling. And every Dacia cuts out the unnecessary pomp that you don't really need, like soft-touch dashboards and leather trim.

If you just want an affordable new car, Dacia is a brand you'll love.

Until now there hasn't been a business case for building the Sandero and its platform-sharing soft-roader sibling, the Sandero Stepway, in right-hand drive, but after much success on the continent the time is ripe for us Brits to learn what all the fuss is about.

Dacia is owned by the Renault group, which in turn is part of a technology-sharing alliance with Nissan. It's the firm's value brand, placing price and reliability as top priorities.

The two don't necessarily go hand in hand, but the vast majority of every Dacia is tried and tested old Renault bit, from which the bugshave been ironed out. As such Dacias are apparently among the most reliable cars in Europe.

Take the Sandero. Its chassis is a mixture of front end bits from the Dacia Lodgy, the rear axle of the Renault Kangoo and scattered bits of the third generation Renault Clio. It's a sizeable thing and this is what Dacia is all about: offering maximum car for minimum money.

The boot alone is enough to summarise the Sandero. The old-fashioned bare metal button catch release button pushes deep into the surface of the tailgate and will suffer after a while on salty British winter roads, but the boot itself is huge; much bigger than you would expect from a car costing A-segment car money.

The available space is on the large side even for a B-segment car, which is a perfect example of the value for money that the Sandero represents.

Likewise the panel gaps aren't always consistent, but when was the last time you actually checked the panel gaps on a car? Basically, the Sandero is a no-frills, simple car.

The inside is relatively plain, utilitarian and practical, but not unpleasant at all. The high-end models, for which you'll still only pay less than £9,000, have a little more decoration but the gargantuan glove box and storage bins in the cabin remain, including a large one on top of the dashboard.

Fact File

Dacia Sandero 0.9 TCE Laureate

PRICE
£8,795 on the road

ENGINE: 0.9-litre turbocharged petrol engine producing 89bhp
TRANSMISSION: 5-speed manual gearbox driving the front wheels
PERFORMANCE: Top speed 109mph, 0-62mph in 11.1 secs
ECONOMY: 54.3mpg
CO₂ RATING: 120g/km

entry point. The 89bhp diesel achieves 99g/km of CO₂, making it the cheapest sub-100g/km car on sale in the UK.

The diesel does suffer a little from vibration under acceleration in the fourth and fifth of the five ratios, but it's not enough to put you off.

The maths point inevitably to the 1.2 petrol being the cheapest to own over a few years of below-average mileage, but if like the majority of European Dacia owners you plan to keep a car for six or seven years before changing, the turbocharged model will be a better car to own and, with cheaper road tax and better fuel economy, potentially cheaper over its lifetime.

Chassis dynamics are things that no Sandero buyer is going to be overly concerned with, but fortunately the car steers, stops, rides and cruises perfectly well. The ride is a little bouncy at times but that's not unusual in cars costing double the Sandero's price, so it's entirely forgivable.

This is a sensible car for a sensible price that will get the job done for a much lower outlay than other cars of its size. On the other hand, it offers much, much more space and practicality than other cars in its price bracket.

Whichever way you look at it, the Sandero is going to turn heads.

The seats are comfortable; not as hard as a typical German car's but not as soft as some French ones can get. The air movement controls are easy to use with clear markings, and the driving position is within a reasonable range for a lot of people, albeit without steering wheel reach adjustment. Those longer of arm and shorter of leg will be most comfortable, but it's fine.

There are three engines on offer, from a basic 1.2-litre petrol to an advanced and nicely gutsy 0.9-litre three-cylinder turbocharged petrol and a 1.5-litre diesel.

The turbocharged petrol is undoubtedly the sweetest of the three but the ordinary 1.2 offers a good

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).
Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

"Positive living and learning for people with epilepsy and other complex needs"

Much Hadham, Herts SG10 6EW

Temporary Deputy Night Care Manager

£19,366 - £21,941 pa. pro rata for length of contract

An exciting and unique opportunity has arisen for a Temporary Deputy Night Care Manager (up to 6 months) working as part of a multi-skilled night team, providing an excellent service to adults with epilepsy, learning disability and complex health needs. You will be supporting the Night Manager with care and staff management, working 21:30 - 07:30, 4 nights on duty 4 nights off duty. The post requires NVQ level 2 in Adult Care or equivalent and experience of working with people with learning disabilities. Ideally you will have an A1 assessor's award.

Care Workers

£14,353 - £17,334 pa (37.5 hours - also bank & part time available)

If you are motivated and enthusiastic with good communication skills and have the skills to contribute and maintain the high standard of care provided by the existing team we would like to hear from you. Ideally you will have some experience in care together with NVQ2 / Diploma in health & Social Care (Adults), however this is not essential as training and development in the role will be provided.

BOTH ROLES ARE BASED IN BISHOP'S STORTFORD

Systems Administrator

£22,404 - £24,813 per annum
Permanent

Ref: 2860/P

We are looking for a Systems Administrator to support and maintain ICT systems, including hand held technology for trade operatives across the Group Direct Labour Organisation (DLO) to allow the organisation to operate on a commercial basis.

You will work with Group ICT and external suppliers to ensure that the Group DLO is gaining the best possible value and service from business support/IT systems and mobile working/telecommunications equipment and systems. You will provide a problem solving service to the Team Managers to ensure that ICT systems, e-trading, vehicle tracking, reporting and mobile/telecommunications equipment are fit for purpose and operating effectively.

You will need good IT skills including data migration, database, advanced Excel and Word. Previous experience in an IT role and experience of supporting ICT and mobile equipment users through effective coaching and training is essential.

Assessment date: 1 February 2013.

Business Support Officer

£22,404 - £24,813 per annum
Permanent

Ref: 2862/P

We are looking for a Business Support Officer to support the deployment of business support functions across the Group Direct Labour Organisation (DLO) for effective waste disposal, sustainability, risk assessment, training, vehicle fleet and procurement of materials/supply.

The successful candidate will, under the direction of the Business Support Manager, deliver effective deployment, monitoring, periodic inspection and testing of organisational practices to ensure compliance with statutory health and safety legislation and promotion/training of safe working practices across the Group DLO. You will support the delivery of a comprehensive training programme for the workforce to increase levels of multi-skilling, compliance with current construction/technical standards and health and safety/safe working practices.

You will have previous experience of commercial management, logistics and deployment of processes over a multi-site environment. Good IT skills including use of Microsoft Office and proven problem solving skills are essential.

Assessment date: 1/4 February 2013.

Closing date for both roles: 4pm 17 January 2013.

To apply please visit www.circle.org.uk/corporate/careers and complete an application form. If you are unable to complete your application online please write quoting the relevant reference number to: Resourcing Officer, Circle, 6 Central Avenue, Norwich NR7 0HR and we will send you an application pack. Unfortunately we are unable to accept CVs.

INJURY KO: Andy Brummitt (s)

Injury ruled star out of U-21 world champs

ICE hockey star Andy Brummitt will hope to have better luck with injuries this year than he did in 2012.

The 19-year-old sustained a metatarsal injury when he made his debut for the Great Britain team for the U-20 World Junior Ice Hockey Championships.

Hull Stingrays star Brummitt, a former student at St Nicholas School in Old Harlow, was hit in the warm-up before the second game which England lost 6-2 to Poland in the tournament held in the Ukraine.

Brummitt, who plays as a netminder (goal-keeper), played through the pain barrier.

The youngster has been dogged by injuries. He had recovered from a broken a bone in a hand in August to earn a call-up for the junior championships.

His father, Russell Brummitt, said: "He has not had a lot of luck with injuries. There is a lot of sliding about that the netminders have to do.

"We are trying to arrange for him to have an MRI scan and he needs to be 100 per cent right before he comes back. He was given four painkillers for the game [against Poland]."

In the first game Brummitt played well as GB drew 1-1 against Ukraine before the hosts won on a penalty shoot-out.

But after his injury against Poland, Brummitt was ruled out of the rest of the tournament in which GB eventually finished 5th.

Brummitt has played for Hull in the British Elite League for more than 18 months, but has been on loan at his old club, English National League side Chelmsford Chieftains, this term as he returns from injury.

Mr Brummitt snr added: "He did well in the first game. In years to come I am sure he will look upon it as valuable experience."

Lowers shows punch in Boxing Day trek

RUNNING

MARC Lowers set a personal best (PB) time of 32 minutes and 59 seconds when he ran in the Witham Boxing Day 5-mile race.

The Harlow Running Club member finished 49th from 278 finishers.

Harlow colleague Sean Flynn completed the Portsmouth Marathon in a commendable time of 3hrs, 55mins and 3secs. He was 307th from 900 finishers.

Andy Kinney was 793rd in 5:04.02.

The course was a multi-terrain coastal circuit, including sections of shingle and mud flats.

RUGBY
LONDON, div three north

It's Mack the knife for Hawks' star midfielder

MIDFIELDER Hector Mackie is finally beginning to settle in at this level of football.

That's the belief of Hawks assistant boss Paul West-Hook.

The 24-year-old former St Albans City player has been a key player in the engine room since he joined Harlow Town in October from the Evo-Stik League, premier division side.

Last season he played for Hayes & Yeading in the Blue Square Bet Premier which is three divisions higher than where Harlow play.

West-Hook said: "He has struggled over the way football is played at this level. "He likes to have the ball at his feet and pass it about."

He added: "We have sat him down twice and encouraged him to get more forward." Mackie is not a bad dead ball specialist, as he showed with his free-kick goal against Chatham Town in November.

On Saturday he showed his potential in open play with two well-taken goals against AFC Sudbury.

This ability is important as the Ryman League division one north club do not have an out-and-out recognised centre forward at the moment with Scott Williams (knee ligament injury) expected to be out for some time now.

Goals from any source are vital, particularly midfield.

West-Hook added: "He took his goals well and he is taking our message on board."

Ex factor sparks fightback misery

ASSISTANT boss Paul West-Hook felt the injury to central defender Donny Barnard was the key as AFC Sudbury fought back from 2-0 down to beat the Hawks.

Harlow Town were two goals up after 16 minutes on Saturday – midfielder Hector Mackie with an excellent brace – but the Suffolk side stormed back.

Adding salt to the wound, two of their goals came from ex-Hawks striker Leon Antoine, including the winner on 84 minutes.

Barnard went off with a calf injury just past the half-hour point.

Harlow also lost forward Scott Williams (knee ligament) who went off after 48 minutes.

West-Hook said: "We played well in the first half and they did not get tight to us.

"But it did not help when we lost somebody like Donny Barnard and had to make a few changes."

Earlier, Hawks boss Danny Chapman gave a first start to Ben Hart on the right side of midfield.

Tom Davie was switched to right-back in the absence of the banned Michael Akande.

DOUBLE TROUBLE: Ex-Hawks star Leon Antoine struck twice against his old club (s)

Warren Graham, who plays on the right side of midfield, was on the bench. He has joined the club from Harlow & District Sunday League side Harberts.

Keeper Bertrand Bossu returned after missing the Boxing Day game through illness.

Harlow went ahead on 11 minutes. A great cross from the left by Davie preceded Mackie meeting it first time to shoot home.

Hawks doubled the lead on 16 minutes. Mackie shot from 20 yards into a bottom corner after an excellent chest down from Piers Wixon.

When Barnard went off, Joe O'Donoghue moved to centre-half and Jordan Gill went to left-back.

Sudbury pulled one back on 39 minutes when Adam Dalby's flick on was headed in at the back post by the unmarked Antoine.

West-Hook said: "We did not set ourselves up quickly enough for this and the goal gave them a lift."

Harlow then lost Williams and Chapman sent on Graham for his debut as a makeshift striker.

The visitors offered little up front and the Suffolk side had the edge before they levelled on 73 minutes.

Tom Cutts's 20-yard shot from the right beat Bossu at the near post.

West-Hook said: "Bert held his hands up for this one. It should not have gone in and it was then back to the wall for us."

Shortly after, Antoine was thwarted by a good last-gasp challenge from Danny Brown before Antoine scored the winner six minutes from time.

He skillfully volleyed in a cross from the right at the near post.

West-Hook added: "I like Leon. He is a good player and took his goal well."

HARLOW TN: Bossu 5, Davie 6, O'Donoghue 5, Barnard 6 (Deaney 33), Brown 5, Muguo 5, Hart 6, Mackie 7, Williams 6 (Graham 48 6), Wixon 6, Gill 5. Sub not used Tama.

● HAWKS midfielder Stanley Muguo allegedly damaged a dressing room door and a side door after Harlow Town's 3-2 loss to AFC Sudbury. The Barrows Farm club have allegedly agreed to pay for the damage.

COMEBACK TRAIL: Jordan Gill is enjoying playing for Harlow after returning from a heart scare
(HSP0863997)

Gill relishing role after heart scare

JORDAN Gill is relishing the chance of playing football again for Harlow Town after getting over a heart scare.

The 20-year-old left-back, who is an electrician by trade, has come on as a sub in one game and started two matches after recovering from the scare.

He was ruled out in November. Gill explained: "It was a massive struggle in terms of breathing. I was short of breath. I had an enlarged heart and it was swollen around the arteries.

"If I had not gone to hospital it could have been more serious. I feel much better now."

Gill, who lives in Cheshunt, joined Harlow Town from Ware in the close season after previously being at Chesham.

The left-back, who can also operate on the left side of midfield, feels he is settling into men's football.

He said: "My main position is left-back but I like getting forward. I feel stronger and more confident playing men's football than I did last season.

"Things are not going well but will turn around. Danny Chapman is a great manager and Danny Brown is always behind [supporting] us."

Gill scored his first goal for Harlow against Ware in the club Ware at Wodson Park, but the Boxing Day clash was abandoned. Gill said: "It was still good to score even though it does not count. I just struck it as hard as I could."

● THE Hawks have rearranged two new dates for Ryman League division one north fixtures. Harlow Town will now play Witham Town on Tuesday January 29.

The original game on Saturday December 22 was postponed because of bad weather.

Harlow have rescheduled their away match against Ware for Tuesday February 5 after the original game was abandoned.

Bar humbug!

Boss looks for revival following three defeats

HARLOW TN O, POTTERS BAR TN 1
RYMAN LEAGUE, DIVISION ONE NORTH

A WIN is vital as the Hawks seek to stop the rot when they visit in-form Soham Town Rangers this Saturday.

It is a tough challenge for Harlow Town as they have lost their last three games after their New Year's Day home defeat to play-off hopefuls Potters Bar Town.

Harlow, who are 18th, will be without forward Scott Williams (knee) and winger Sam Deaney (concussion) who sustained their injuries at AFC Sudbury five days ago.

Prior to Soham's match at Needham Market last night (Wednesday), the Cambridgeshire side had scored 25 goals in their last six league games.

Chapman said: "It's going to be tough. We need to get a win. It is a confidence thing more than anything. Once we get a win we will be OK."

"We have not been playing badly but we have got one or two things wrong in games and that is what we will be working on."

Mitchell Das was back from holiday and he partnered Piers Wixon up front against Potters Bar, while Michael Akande returned at right-back after serving a one-match suspension.

Hawks keeper Bertrand Bossu make a magnificent tip-over save to keep out Cole Penney's 19th-minute shot before the former blocked a left-footed shot from Harvey Scott-Morris on 41 minutes.

In between these efforts, unmarked Hawks central defender Danny Brown nodded a Tom Davie corner against the bar.

Chapman said: "It was a move we had worked on in training and Danny almost had too much time with it."

The game's sole goal came on 82 minutes. A 50-yard ball from John Urquhart went over the Hawks defence and was latched onto by Daniel Ailey who fired in off a post.

Chapman said: "Our back four got caught flat a few times in the game and this was one of them. That was disappointing."

Harlow had previously been unable to convert their pressure into goals.

Chapman added: "They were better in the first half and we were better in the second half. I felt we deserved a draw."

HARLOW TN: Bossu, Akande, O'Donoghue, Barnard, Brown, Muguo, Davie, Mackie, Das, Wixon, Gill (Hart 85). Subs not used: Asamoah, Graham, Tamai (gk). Att: 158.

● STRIKER Kwama Asamoah from Spartan South Midlands League premier division side London Colney has signed and he was an unused sub against Potters Bar.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "He has been training with us but I would like to have seen more of him first but injuries forced our hand."

Jake Young, brother of QPR's former Spurs and England defender Luke Young, has left Harlow, who still have his registration. "He did well in two games for us. He wants to go to America and needed a full-time job and this means him working on Saturdays," said Chapman.

ANGER: Hawks skipper Stanley Muguo is frustrated by Tuesday's game (HSP0884580)

Rams hope to take form into 2013

THE Rams will hope they can continue in 2013 where they left off last year as they get their RFU London division three north east campaign back on the road at Norwich this Saturday.

Lee Harron's men ended 2012 in brilliant form, with four successive victories to go 7th.

These came against Sudbury, Canvey Island, Old Brentwoods and East London.

It would have been five wins but for a narrow 20-19 home loss against Wanstead.

Harlow are just 11 points off leaders South Woodham Ferrers now.

Captain Shaun Roberts said: "Our fitness has improved since the early season and we have trained over the Christmas period."

"We have been more clinical in taking chances. It is a tall ask to win at Norwich but we are more than capable of doing it."

Harlow will be without number eight Darren Hawkins (work commitments) and Ollie James (shoulder operation).

Flanker Dominic Lane, 17, will probably start after two impressive performances as a substitute.

Until October 27 the Rams had not won a game but then went on a stunning sequence of results, winning five of the next six matches.

But second-placed Norwich will be a totally different proposition.

Norwich have eight wins from 11 games, including just two defeats.
